

DVD & CD Duplication Services

VHS tapes degrade over time when they are played, can be affected by stretching, weather, etc. and cannot be easily navigated to find a particular segment. Do a direct copy of your VHS tapes to DVD and preserve what you have for future generations.

Most digital cameras use mini DV tape. Though the initial quality is far superior to VHS, mini DV tapes will also degrade over time. Using your camera as a deck to watch your video puts undesirable wear and tear on it.

We offer a simple pricing package for standard real time copying. Real time means tape to DVD with no chapters or editing. We offer additional copies at a discount when ordered at the same time as the duplication. Plus, we can duplicate your current DVDs.

We guarantee your DVD quality will be at least as good as the VHS tape quality but we do not make any claims that the quality will be better than the original. However, DVDs do not degrade over time and usage the way VHS tapes do, plus a DVD can be easily fast forwarded, reversed, freeze-framed, etc.

Price includes your information (Name, Date, Subject, etc.) ink jet printed directly to the surface, in color. We NEVER use paper labels on DVDs or CDs. Packaged in a slim line jewel case.
